The Personnel of the Body-Its Powers-Some Reminiscences-A Notable Scene Recalled.

it covers extends from Maryland to Texas, and from Virginia to Missouri, and has within its limits two millions of Baptists, of whom, however, about half are colored and do not cooperate with this Convention.

It is not an ecclesiastical body in the sense that it does any legislation for the churches, but is rather a missionary society which has under its charge the missionary operations of the denomination.

The Home Misslon Board, located at Atlanta, Ga, has charge of the home work, and makes annual reports to the body of its operations in destitute parts of the South and Southwest, among the Chinese of California, the negroes, and the Indians of the West.

TREASUREE'S REPORT.

The Treasurer reports as his receipts, $80.465.87—the largest amount ever receipts in the spear. The sum reported last year was $15.826.81 above the average receipts for twelve years; and the sum this year exceeds that of last year by $23.561.16. The average of these two years is three times as much as the average of these two years is three times as much as the average of these two years is three times as much as the values as the values are contributions of the fifteen wars preceding the war. The balance of $61.100.10 on hand at the close of last year, added to this year's receipts, makes $86.625.97—the agreed which the Board has had at its disposal for the spread of the gospel in forsign lands. The Foreign Mission Board at Richmond reports on its work in China, Africa, Italy, Brazil, and Mexico.

The Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, located at Louisville, also claims much of the time and interest of the Convention.

"As the net proceeds of the bequest of Mrs. Mary M. D. much of the time and interest of the Convention.

The States are entitled to a number of delegates in proportion to their contributions to those several objects, and the delegation is usually a very large one, as it is an annual gathering of the denomination, which is very highly appreciated.

Last year the Convention met at Waco, Texas, and there were about three thousand delegates and visitors present.

This year the attendance will hardly be so large, but as every route into the city is pouring in its quota it is evident that the Convention will be composed of representatives of every State—Texas will have more than the usual quota.

The Convention is composed of some of the ablest preachers and most dissinguished laymen in the South, and embraces native ability, scholarship, pulpit power, platform effectiveness, business capacity, and devoted zeal, which combine to make it a meeting of great interest and marked influence and power.

The president of the Convention for many years has been Rev. Dr. P. H. Mell, chancellor of the University of Georgia, whose mingled courtesy and firmness, thorough knowledge of parliamentary law (bis book on "Parliamentary Praclamentary law (bis book on "Parliamentar whose mingled courtesy and firmness, thorough knowledge of parliamentary law (his book on "Parliamentary Practice" has long been recognized as standard authority], and prompt dispatch of business have won for him the enthusiastic admiration of all who have ever seen him preside, and it is not likely that any one else will be called to the position so long as this "prince of presiding officers" is willing to serve.

The meeting in Baltimore this year recalls the scene here in 1867, when for the first time after the war northern men were myited to seats as "visiting brethren" on the floor of the Southern Baptist Convention. In the midst of an able and very fraternal speech from Rev. Dr. Welch, of New York, when he was trying to make a very loving speech, he inadvertently said: "Why, Brother President, such is my impetuous nature I have no doubt that if I had lived at the South I should have been one of the very leaders of the rebellion."

to the house from his decision. Do you appeal, sir? I hope you will."

But the venerable brother very promptly responded, "No, Brother Moderator, I do not appeal."

LOCAL MATTERS.

W. S. Walker, our missionary to Shanghai, married Miss Lillian Ellen Mateer, of Tung Chow, now in this country with her hosband, who is sadiy broken in health. On the 20th of March the following gentlemen were sceepted by the Board as missionaries: Francis M. Myers, of Kentucky, and Charles Edwin Smith, of Arkansas, for Africa; James Monroe Johner, of Louisiana, Elijah E. Davault, of Tennessee, and Frederick Chiles Hickson, of South Carolina, for China. Brethren Hickson and Smith are married men. In May last Mrs. C. W. Pruitt, of Tung Chow, was baptized, which may be regarded as adding the eleventh name to our missionary force. In no year since the organization of the Convention have so many or more promising missionaries been enrolled by this Board.
